

NEWS OF THE STATE IS SENT BY WIRE

SOME OF THE HAPPENINGS IN WISCONSIN.

Murder Case Ends With An Acquittal at Randolph, and a Divorce Suit Will Be the Sequel—Governor Scofield's Successful Logging Operations—Some Other Notes.

Randolph, Wis., March 29.—Ishmeel Simon had an examination before Justice D. G. Jones at Randolph. He was discharged owing to the fact that there was not sufficient evidence on which to hold him.

He was arrested by Constable Thompson at Randolph March 13, on a charge of attempt to murder, preferred by his wife, who claimed that while she and her sister, Miss Ella Wagner, were asleep together, Simon dropped poison in their mouths. Simon was arrested at Oambria and placed under $300 bonds, which he secured. His hearing was postponed until yesterday, when he was discharged. It is said that Mr. Simon will now sue for a divorce.

His Bride Returned to Him.

Durand, Wis., March 29.—Tom Keeler of Arkansaw, Wis., and his bride, formerly Nellie Thompson of Eau Claire, were reunited this week the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thompson, permitting the bride to return to her husband. The action began by Mr. Keeler against Mr. Thompson for $5,000 damages was withdrawn. Miss Thompson eloped with Keeler from the home of her grandparents in Eau Claire nearly two months ago, the marriage taking place at Arkansaw. The bride being but 16, her parents objected to the match. Mr. Thompson recovered possession of his daughter the next day by legal process.

Shot Fired Into a Store.

Stevens Point, Wis., March 29.—A bullet from a revolver was fired through the screen and door of J. P. Ohealey's grocery store. The only conclusion that could be drawn was that the shot came from a hole in the rear of N. Miller's butcher shop, but Mr. Miller knew nothing about it. The affair has caused considerable comment as the persons who fired the shot are unknown and the motive, if there was one, is a mystery.

Gov. Scofield's Logging.

Florence, Wis., March 29.—Governor Scofield has completed his logging operations on the Pople river, in this county. His company banked about 16,000,000 feet of logs for a Milwaukee lumber company. The governor has had a profitable logging season and is well pleased with the winter's campaign in the Florence county pineries. He will continue logging operations in the same section next season.

Bannister Trial Resumed.

Shell Lake, Wis., March 29.—The Bannister-Butler murder trial which was adjourned last Tuesday on account of the sudden illness of defense counsel, was resumed this morning.

Merrill Banks Consolidated.

Merrill, Wis., March 29.—At a special meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank and the National bank, it was decided to at once consolidate the two banks.

Candidate in Quarantine.

Ashland, Wis., March 29.—Mayor Bardon is under quarantine on account of the sickness of his son with diphtheria. Mr. Bardon is a candidate for re-election, and in the midst of a campaign, but he promptly accepted the quarantine to help care for his son. Police officers would not allow the mayor to leave his house unless he remained away until the quarantine was raised. This Mr. Bardon refused to do, and he is likely to be kept inside until election is over.

Milwaukee Doctor Convicted.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 29.—After a trial lasting two weeks, Dr. W. J. Wick of this city was found guilty of criminal malpractice. He was also on trial for manslaughter, but the jury found him not guilty of this charge.

New Papal Delegate Here.

New York, March 29.—Mgr. de Val, the newly appointed papal delegate to the church in Canada, arrived Sunday on the Umbria, and went at once to the residence of Archbishop Corrigan. Mgr. de Val, it is said, may leave for Canada to-night.

Many Italian Immigrants.

New York, March 29.—The steamer Clive, which arrived Sunday from Naples, brought 1,119 Italian steerage passengers, the largest number of immigrants brought to this port by any one steamer this season.

Four Million Dollar Coal Deal.

Jackson, O., March 29.—Papers have been signed and delivered transferring the entire Jackson county coal field to the Kruger syndicate of London, limited, in consideration of $4,000,000.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE.

Chicago, March 29.—[Special]—War is still the scarecrow and I am not as scared as anybody so I have kept quiet, being unable to advise buying of July wheat even on war prospects. The visible supply showed 47,000 more decrease than expected mainly at New York. It goes to prove my assertion that cash wheat will be wanted the balance of the year. Northwest receipts are enormous, but largely the result of accumulations on account of the blockade. We must wait a few days for normal conditions. The elevator people are less aggressive about rigging July above May. They cannot get anybody to buy the July and if the May longs will just pay for their wheat they can dictate their price, for in spite of the consumption of corn meal and of hard to month policy, there will be a fair demand for wheat for ninety days, and outside of wheat held for millers there is not over two million wheat on the Atlantic coast, and no wheat available outside of Chicago; and they must come here and get it, because they cannot get it anywhere else; that is all there is to it; so get your margin ready, seven cents per bushel and own some wheat for once in your life, instead of bulling cards and pencils. Don't be afraid of it. The quality is the best ever known; money is easy and the insurance companies are first class. If we get war and serious crop damage then the speculative demand may outstrip the legitimate demand but in that event May wheat must also advance your risk is absolutely limited. It is a question of arithmetic. Crop reports continue to indicate almost perfect conditions in Tennessee and Kentucky with increased acreage most places and in Illinois where damage has occurred there is considerable spring wheat being sown. The professional, progressive people jumped on the market today and broke it down with great unanimity. Extremes tip a temporary run of hogs may furnish the excuse for a future break but the lower they break it the higher it will go in the end. No fabrication of quotations can undermine the solid structure upon which provision values rest, and we care nothing whatever as regards ultimate results of these temporary spasms. Corn is strong. There is just one bear argument left and that is the impending liquidation of May corn, but it is barely possible that the shorts will be more anxious than the longs, at all events they will only cause the change in the relative position of the market. Corn should be bought now and bought aggressively. We have expected twenty-five million bushels in for weeks. A large proportion of it is rotting in Iowa and Nebraska, and while economy has exerted itself as regards wheat profligacy and waste have been the rule as regards corn. Do not be afraid to buy it and keep it and buy more. You cannot lose any money.

Coal Miners Protest.

Phillipsburg, Pa., March 29.—At a mass meeting of miners in this city Sunday resolutions were adopted declaring against any acceptance of a reduction in the mining rate and calling upon the men who have accepted a reduction to quit work. A request is also made of all the miners in all the soft-coal regions whose coal goes to the Eastern markets to send delegates to the general conference to be held at Clearfield next Wednesday.

Alleged Murderer Acquitted.

Fort Scott, Kan., March 29.—Harry Adams, charged with having killed and then burned the bodies of the four McFadden brothers, aged 10, 12, 15 and 17 respectively, at Frontenac, has been acquitted after a four days' trial. Ben Whittington of Phillipsburg, Kan., who was held on the same charge, was dismissed. Adams was immediately rearrested, charged with arson in setting fire to the house in which the boys were burned.

Tortured to Death.

Wymore, Neb., March 29.—David Jones, a wealthy bachelor, was tortured by masked men about a week ago and is dead. The robbers entered his home and demanded that he reveal to them the hiding place of his money. Upon being refused, they burned and bruised his body. Mr. Jones had $3,500 hidden away in the basement. The secret was revealed just before death.

McKinley Will Go to Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 29.—National Commander Donovan of the Union Veteran league states that President McKinley has assured him that he will come to this city April 9 and review the parade of the legion, the occasion being the thirty-sixth anniversary of the surrender of Appomattox.

CYCLONE IN TEXAS DID MUCH DAMAGE

HAVOC SPREAD AT THE CITY OF AUSTIN.

State University Suffers—Many Buildings Wrecked—Two Persons Said To Have Been Killed At Buda—The Flood Situation—Thousands View the Scene of Devastation.

Austin, Tex., March 29.—A terrific cyclone swept through this city Sunday afternoon, injuring many persons and demolishing thousands of dollars' worth of property. The entire roof of the dormitory adjoining the state university was blown away, letting the rain drive full into the four-story building, doing inestimable damage to the building and to the property of the 200 students therein, many of whom fell for their lives. The roof was carried a distance of 100 yards, lighting on and crushing the roof of a cottage in which were four persons, none of whom were injured, though intombed by falling debris.

The residence of Dr. Graves, immediately north of the church, was lifted from its foundation, twisted completely around and set down in the same place, so badly damaged, however, that none of the doors could be opened to permit the escape of the frightened inmates. The new and unoccupied residence of Burt McDonald was blown down, striking against the residence of William Vinig, which was demolished.

The wind played havoc with several lumber yards in the eastern portion of the city.

The storm came from the southwest, striking Austin at about 2 o'clock and lasting for nearly twenty minutes. Several large electric-light towers were blown down and the iron frames were twisted as though they were of wire. It is impossible to estimate the amount of damage done, but it will reach many thousands of dollars.

At the village of Buda, near here, two persons were killed, though their names are not obtainable. Telegraph wires are down and it is difficult to obtain particulars.

The small town of Clarksville, near this city, was swept by the winds and many persons were injured. With the terrific wind came a driving rain that was little short of a flood and swept everything before it.

THOUSANDS VIEW THE FLOOD.

Great Spectacle at Quincy—The River Rising and Peril Growing.

Quincy, Ill., March 29.—Thousands of people went to the river front Sunday to view the great flood. The situation around Quincy grows worse and worse and every hour the danger of disastrous calamity becomes more imminent. The river is seven miles wide, and for four days the flood has risen at the rate of a quarter of an inch an hour or more. The Missouri bottoms are all submerged, and most of the people have abandoned their homes. The Barlow corn-planter works have to keep the pumps going to keep from being washed out. Other establishments are having the same experience, and if the water gets much higher some of them may have to close down. West Quincy is all under water, and steamers carrying excursionists to view the flood are able to sail through the streets of the town.

Flood Peril Is Great.

Washington, March 29.—Prof. Willis L. Moore, chief of the Weather Bureau, Sunday issued the following special bulletin: "The Mississippi river will continue to rise for at least ten days in the region from Helena southward to Vicksburg, and to rise during a longer period from Vicksburg southward. Levees will be subjected to the greatest strain about April 10 in Southeast Arkansas, Western Mississippi, and in Louisiana. Should the levees break the result will be one of the most disastrous floods ever known."

Minnesota Rivers Rising.

St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—The rivers of Minnesota are rising rapidly. The Mississippi at this point passed the ten-foot mark at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, and is still rising steadily. Water is flowing in from the Minnesota in a torrent. The basements of many concerns on the west side are full of water. Much high water in the Mississippi is reported at Little Falls, St. Cloud and Grand Rapids. There is still about a foot of snow on the ground.

Cairo In No Danger.

Cairo, Ill., March 29.—The river has been at a standstill here for several days, the rise in the Mississippi offsetting the fall in the Ohio. Cairo's two relief boats, the Vidalia and Minnetonka, have returned from a week's trip down the river 150 miles. They picked up nearly 300 people and several hundred head of stock, providing them with food and landing them on high ground.

Improvement at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., March 29.—The flood situation around Memphis is unchanged. The river is slowly falling, the gauge registering 36.3 feet. Many of the refugees are returning to their abandoned homes in Arkansas, and altogether the outlook is more encouraging than at any time since the big flood set in.

WORK OF CONGRESS IS ALL LAID OUT

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM FOR THE WEEK.

The Struggle Over the Tariff Bill Will End On Wednesday—Discussion of Arbitration Treaty Will Take Up the Time of the Senate—Capital Gossip.

Washington, March 29.—Three more days will see the end of the struggle over the Dingley tariff bill in the house. The bill will be open for amendment until 1 o'clock on Wednesday, when the debate will close, with a two-hour display of oratory. The voting will begin at 3 o'clock on that day.

So far as is known there will be no break in the Republican ranks, but at least four of the Democrats will brave the party whip and cast their votes for the bill, three from Louisiana and one from Texas. There is also a probability that one Populist and one silverite will vote for this protective measure.

But fourteen of the 162 pages of the bill were disposed of in the two days of last week. At this rate it would require twenty-one days for the house, sitting seven hours a day, to complete the consideration of the bill under the five-minute rule. If the present tactics of the opposition are persisted in it is not improbable that night sessions will be held.

After the tariff bill is passed, on Wednesday, the house will probably adjourn three days at a time until the appropriation bills are returned to it. If they are amended by the senate, the house will probably accept the opportunity offered for talking, and, as no injury can be done, it is likely that the leaders will indulge the members to some extent in this regard.

The senate will devote its energies this week to the arbitration treaty, with the vague hope on the part of some of the friends of that instrument of securing a final vote on Friday or Saturday. It is surmised that, if the Chilton amendment should be accepted, the debate on the treaty would soon come to a conclusion, but that, if it should be beaten, the subsequent discussion would be of indefinite duration.

The appropriation bills are expected to be reported to the senate after the meeting of the committee on appropriations, on Tuesday, but they will not be taken up by the senate until the treaty is disposed of. The bankruptcy bill also will yield precedence to the treaty. The question of organizing the committees continues to press for attention, and may reach a climax during the week. The tariff bill will reach the senate late in the week, and will be referred to the committee which already has the various schedules under consideration.

American Dying in a Cuban Prison.

Havana, March 26, via Port Tampa, Fla., March 29.—Ona Melton, the American newspaper correspondent who is confined with the Competitor's crew in Cabanas fortress, is dying. A woman who went to Cabanas yesterday to see relatives incarcerated there, says Melton is so weak that he is able to speak only in a whisper. He couldn't raise himself to the window without the assistance of his companions. Melton's cell is damp and foul-smelling. A fellow-occupant of the same compartment with Melton died of typhoid-malarial fever a few days ago. Melton has had no medical attendance and is now a mere skeleton. He told the woman that he felt that his end was near and that he was fully resigned to his fate, preferring death now to transportation in chains to a Spanish penal station on the African coast later on.

Two Children Are Drowned.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 29.—A double drowning happened at McKee's Rocks, a suburb of this city, Sunday when Willie De Welt, 5 years old, and Elmer, his brother, 10 years of age, were carried off by the swollen Chartiers Creek to almost instant death. The little fellows were on their way home from Sunday school and stopped to play on the creek bank and Willie slipped down the embankment into the water. He called piteously for help and Elmer, although unable to swim, heroically made an effort to save his brother, but was carried off by the swift current and both boys were drowned.

Celebration at Anderson, Ind.

Anderson, Ind., March 29.—The tenth anniversary of the discovery of natural gas in this county will be celebrated April 7. Arrangements are now being made by the Commercial club of this city for the demonstration and the banquet. Gov. Mount has been asked to be present and it is thought he will take this opportunity of paying his respects to the great industrial section of Indiana. Prominent people from all parts of the gas belt will be present and the event will be one of considerable importance.

Secretary Sherman Is Ill.

Washington, March 29.—Secretary of State Sherman is confined to his room with an attack of rheumatism, which manifested itself Saturday. It is not regarded as serious, and the secretary is expected soon to be out again.

GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE Representatives of the Two Nations Confer on Affairs in Crete.

London, March 29.—The conference which the Marquis of Salisbury had in Paris with M. Hanotaux, the French minister for foreign affairs, is regarded as most important, not only with reference to the eastern situation, but as bearing upon the general relations between Great Britain and France. It was noticed that M. Hanotaux greeted Lord Salisbury cordially when he arrived, and that their parting was even more cordial, indicating that the conference was satisfactory to both parties. What actually passed is not known, but the Figaro believes that Lord Salisbury suggested that the island of Crete be occupied by two powers, one of them being Great Britain and the other France or Russia. Other French newspapers and the British press believe that the conferences are a sign of improved relations, and are especially significant as following the visits of Queen Victoria and the Prince of Wales to President Faure.

The British premier, whose health is much shaken, is expected to remain on the Riviera until after Easter.

THE WHEAT YIELD FOR 1896

World's Production Is Placed at 2,428,393,000 Bushels.

Washington, March 29.—The world's wheat crop for 1896 is 2,428,393,000 bushels. This fact will be officially announced by the secretary of agriculture in a report to be issued this week. This important report will also cover the quality and distribution of the corn, wheat and oats grown in the United States during the past year. The manuscript is now in the hands of the government printer. From proofs just sent to Secretary Wilson for correction the facts here presented are taken.

Although the total wheat crop is 118,000,000 bushels less than in 1895, it is larger than earlier estimates indicated. This is largely due to an increase of 59,000,000 bushels in European Russia, as shown in the final estimate of the central statistical bureau over the November estimate of the minister of agriculture of that country.

Alton Road Cuts Expenses.

Bloomington, Ill., March 29.—A general reduction of operating expenses has been inaugurated by the Chicago & Alton railroad company, commencing with the shops and offices at Bloomington. An order has been issued cutting off seven working days in the month in all departments of the general shops. Saturday three train dispatchers were relieved. The remaining dispatchers will be given longer hours or longer mileage of train service. Several stenographers and clerks have also been dispensed with. A general cut of $5 per month has been made in the salaries of operators, and a number of night telegraph offices closed. It is understood also that the force in the road and bridge department will be reduced. Orders to cut expenses rigorously have been issued to the superintendents of all the divisions.

Epidemics Rage in Havana.

Washington, March 29.—Under date of March 20, Sanitary Inspector Burgess of the marine hospital service at Havana reports that smallpox continues an active epidemic, the number of deaths from it last week being a little more than in the previous one. A number of deaths from yellow fever have occurred in the military hospitals among Spanish soldiers, and one civilian died of it in the city, near the cathedral. Intestinal diseases are common. During the week ended March 18 there were ten deaths from yellow fever and 850 new cases of smallpox, with ninety-one deaths.

Present for the President.

Dayton, O., March 29.—G. G. Crouse arrived here Sunday with two fine chestnut sorrel horses. He bought one in Randolph county and the other in Noble county, Indiana for E. L. Haymaker, who met him here and received the horses. They are fine animals, 5 years old, and perfectly matched. The horses are for President McKinley. It is said that he intends to drive them as a tandem team.

Mesaba Ore May Sell for $2.40.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 29.—The Dispatch says that a prominent iron and steel manufacturer makes the statement that it has been decided to quote Mesaba ore at $2.40, to meet the cut in price from $4 to $2.65, announced last week by the reorganized ore pool. The gentleman says the Mesaba price will be officially announced in a day or two.

More Arms for Cuba.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 29.—The famous filibustering steamer Laurada arrived in the Delaware Saturday night, after having successfully landed the most important expedition yet sent from this country to Cuba, and to-night was anchored in the river below Wilmington.

To Prosecute Three Deputies.

Paris, March 29.—The committee appointed by the chamber of deputies to consider the question of prosecuting Deputies Naquet, Henri Maret and Andrieu Boyer for complicity in the Panama scandals met Sunday, and decided to authorize the prosecution.

GREECE AND TURKEY ARE TO BE COERCED

THEY MUST RECALL ALL OF THEIR TROOPS.

Powers May Blockade Both Countries—Collective Note to be Sent to the Governments—Russian Troops In Readiness to Move—Frightful Conditions Found in Crete.

Athens, March 29.—Crown Prince Constantine has arrived at Volo. During the passage of the Canal Egripos, Prince George went on board and bade his brother a touching adieu.

The ministers of the powers held a conference Sunday and, it is stated, drew up the terms of a collective note to the Greek government requesting that the Greek troops be recalled from the frontier.

It is understood that a similar note will be presented to the Porte, and that, if either power refuses, its principal ports will be blockaded.

A meeting of the Cretan delegates will be held shortly at Athens to draft a reply to the Admirals' proclamation of autonomy.

Russian Troops Ready to Move.

London, March 29.—A dispatch to the Times from Vienna says that owing to the keen anxiety felt at St. Petersburg as to what may occur in the near future at Constantinople or in the vicinity, the Czar has ordered the concentration of 200,000 troops in the four governments of South Russia. The Russian volunteer fleet is now available to transport troops whenever required.

The Daily Graphic understands that the British proposal to Greece and Turkey to withdraw their armies from the frontier actually originates at Athens, and says the Turks now occupy all the passes in the mountains and the best strategical positions.

Frightful Conditions in Crete.

London, March 29.—The Daily Mail's Rome correspondent says:

"Admiral Canavaro, commanding the international fleet in Cretan waters, has wired to the Italian government to send immediately a large land force, which is imperatively necessary to cope with the Cretan insurgents. Admiral Canavaro, it is understood, asserts that conditions in the interior of the island are so terrible, as the result of famine and hardship, that even the lepers are leaving the Lazar House; the inhabitants are panic stricken, and the dead lie by the roadside unburied."

Fifty Families Homeless.

Norfolk, Va., March 29.—A fire that burned from 12:30 to 6 o'clock occurred at Portsmouth Sunday morning, making fifty families homeless and causing $100,000 damage. At 2 a. m. the steeple of the Catholic church, three blocks away from the main fire, caught, and in less than half an hour the edifice was in ruins. The flames spread from the church to a row of residences on High street, and flying sparks caused a small blaze in Newton, about a mile away. It was six hours before the fire at Portsmouth was gotten under control. The total loss on all property destroyed probably will reach over $100,000. Several firemen and a number of spectators were more or less injured by falling timbers and flying embers.

New International Crisis.

Ottawa, Ont., March 29.—There is a prospect of international complications arising out of the alleged poaching of United States fishermen in Hecate straits, which lie to the north of Queen Charlotte islands, British Columbia. In these straits there is good halibut fishing, and last fall the dominion government steamer Quadra was sent up for the purpose of warning American fishing vessels away from these waters. Now it appears the American fishermen have raised the contention that these straits are neutral waters, and have made formal complaint to Washington against the interference of Canadian authorities on the Pacific coast.

Blaze at New London.

New London, Conn., March 29.—"The Elms," the magnificent residence of Col. A. C. Tyler, in Pequot avenue, with all its elaborate furnishings, valuable paintings, bric-a-brac, musical instruments and silver, was totally destroyed by fire early Sunday morning, causing a loss of over $300,000; insurance, $75,000. Thirty thousand dollars' worth of jewelry also was destroyed.

California's Cycle Rebellion.

San Francisco, Cal., March 29.—Chief Consul Frank H. Kerrigan of the north California division of the League of American Wheelmen, has resigned as a result of the refusal of the league at its last meeting to sanction Sunday racing. Kerrigan's resignation is the first move of a plan to supplement the League of American Wheelmen in California by a local organization.

Favor Women as Delegates.

Kokomo, Ind., March 29.—The north Indiana Methodist conference pronounced in favor of admitting women as lay delegates to the general conference, the vote being 174 to 34. The proposition to give laymen equal representation was defeated by a vote of 37 to 79.

SOME NOTES PICKED UP AT THE LOCAL CHURCHES.

At the Congregational church yesterday morning the pastor spoke on "A City of God." The text was Isaiah 62:1. For Zion's sake I will now hold my peace and for Jerusalem's sake I will now rest until her righteousness go forth as brightness and her salvation as a lamp that burneth. These words show the love of the Jew for his city. He would defend its purity even at the cost of his own life. From this devotion we may learn something as to our duty to this fair city where God has set our lives. We must now think of a city of God as possible only in the future. God is indeed preparing a radiant New Jerusalem for us, but our longing for that future city must never spoil our loyalty to our present home. We must not yield to the weakness or unbelief which thinks that the city cannot be developed into a higher life. And we must not think of the city of God as a city of churches only. Churches are not the only religious things in a city. It's whole life, in factories, stores and official activities must be in a sense God's. Any bad influence in this city makes the religious life harder for us; and any good influence makes that life easier, whether it comes from a church or a good police officer. Churches are an important part of the religious life of a city, but only a part.

Isiah desired that his city be righteous and saved. Was he only the dreamer of an impossible dream?

Now the main thing in righteousness is obedience to the law. Isiah asked that the city's laws be obeyed. Is that such an absurd thing? Must it be postponed to the far future? To obey the laws of life makes beauty and power. To disobey them ultimately, death. Every time a law is broken in a city it helps create an atmosphere of lawlessness which our children must breathe. Norman can see the fever germs in the air—no man can see the germs of moral disease in the atmosphere of a city where law is not revered. But one is as fatal to moral life as the other to bodily life. It might be well if we knew more about the law; if its elements were taught in the schools, published freely and if the American mothers could add to all their devotion to their children an interest in and knowledge of the laws of the city, where those children's lives must be shaped.

Isiah wanted also a saved city. Salvation may at first seem too sacred and too personal a term to be applied to a city. But the process of Salvation in its broad sense is already going on here. Our schools save from ignorance. Our fire department saves from devastation by fire. The city may be saved from bad immoral influences and bad local customs as truly as a man may be saved from his sins. The ideal of Christianity is not a saved man alone, but a saved city. Men saved in their relations as neighbors and citizens.

In the evening Mr. Denison spoke on Immortality.

At the prayer meeting on Thursday evening the subject will be: Home—our childhood home and its influence on us, our present home and its duties, our future home and its glories.

THE COURT STREET M.E.

REV. DR. SABIN HALSEY, of the Court Street M. E. church, took for his prelude yesterday morning: "Should The Curfew Ring In Janesville."

The speaker said that ever since he had been a resident of Janesville he had been impressed with the fact that altogether too many boys and girls were on the streets alone after dark. Something is radically wrong when these conditions exist. The home is very liable to be at fault. Every boy or girl under fifteen years of age ought to be either in the home or under home care before 9 o'clock.

He thought the curfew bell a great blessing and said that it might yet become a necessity in Janesville. The sermon was from scripture in the gospel of Mark, words of Jesus concerning His life, persecution, death and resurrection, and was in fulfillment of prophecy. It had to do with the character of Christ. His sublime courage, strength to resist temptation and self control. Kings and great men frequently lack these qualifications. Moral heroism and loyalty to truth were strong characteristics of the Son of God. Appreciating the world's great need He laid aloft the standard of truth.

Christ in His unique character possessed the courage of endurance, submitting without a murmur to the revellings of infamy and wearing at last a crown of thorns, yet enduring to the end.

Self-sacrifice was another trait of character that he possessed to a degree that enabled Him to lay down His life not for His friends but for His enemies, and for a world in sin and darkness. A mother's love and a wife's devotion endure privations and hardships for loved ones, this is human love, but Christ endured for all the world.

He was self-sustained and self-contained, able at all times to stand alone. A king without a throne, a sublime teacher without a church. He lived a lonely life and died alone, not of necessity but voluntarily.

The world needed such an example. One of the practical teachings is "be true to yourself at any cost." Christ was filled with divine sympathy—the church should copy His example.

Its mission is not to repel any one, but to help the most lowly and the most degraded to a better life. Cultivate endurance, an iron purpose, a home run. Failure may come, idle gossip may blight reputation, but put on the whole armor, endure to the end and win the crown purchased by divine love.

The house was well filled in the morning, and every seat was occupied in the evening, the Grand Army being in attendance. Smith's orchestra assisted in the music. The pastor was suffering from nervous prostration, and the services of the day were very trying for him.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

A LARGE congregation was present to greet the unexpected appearance of Dr. Hodge in his pulpit. The choir sang a beautiful anthem and Mr. Warren Behan preached upon "Church Unity," the text was in 1 Cor. 12:14-27. Christ did not give a completed church organization, but emphasized the practical life growing out of the organization. The members were to use their good sense in organizing the visible body from the various elements at hand.

1. The church was composed of all the elements at hand. It was not composed exclusively of one class of people but the Jew, the fisherman and people of all classes were represented. We should use all of the elements of strength found in the church for the conversion of any soul that may be won to the Saviour.

There should be no depreciation of any members work or worth. If you can not give liberally or perhaps do some great work, you should not refuse to do faithfully the little that you may be able to do. Every little talent is needed. It is not so much what you do as the spirit with which you do it. You have your place in the church and should fill it faithfully and well.

3 We should not overestimate our ability and worth. The ocean needs the rivers and brooks, so we, united in the church need each other. We are brethren and should treat each other as such. If the church ever succeeds in doing its work, it will be because we unite all of our individual efforts. The successful runner uses every part of his body. Every part sympathizes with the other. We, as members of the church, will aid each other and fulfill our mission in a singular world if we each do our individual part. Let everyone strive to do his part being led by the spirit of the blessed Master.

The Endeavor meeting was led by Miss Ruby Blanchard. The topic was "Christian Heroism." Many good thoughts were expressed. At the evening service Mr. Behan spoke upon the topic "Some Aspects of Salvation." His text was Matthew, 7:21.

There have been many wrong impressions about salvation. Salvation is not simply a way of escape from the penalty of sin, in the world to come it means more. It has something to do with this life. It is applicable to the everyday life of men. It ought to make this life sweeter and better.

Simple profession of Christianity does not give salvation. It reaches deeper than that. Christianity means a new creature. "Ye must be Born Again." New and better fruits must be produced by the tree.

Are we showing by our fruits that we have passed from the old life to the new? We may do good without making a profession, but it is the spirit of Christ acting through us and we ought to let the Master take complete possession of us and thus build character for eternity. We ought to do the whole will of God. Our perverted wills ought to be completely subjected to His belief in Christ and obey Him and we shall become like Him. Place Him constantly before you and live for Him. Accept Him, join his followers and unite your efforts with theirs, in building up your own characters and that of others. Strive earnestly to carry out the heavenly implanted impulses of your hearts, and thus fulfill your mission in life. Jesus Christ is ever ready to help you thus to do.

BOILERS FOR COURT HOUSE.

The Heating Plant Is to Be Remodeled This Summer.

Two new boilers to cost $1,000 will be placed in the Rock county court house as soon as the weather moderates. The boilers will be forty-eight inches in diameter and twelve feet long. The American Heating company of Rockford will probably put them in. The boilers now in use have been condemned. They were put in when the court house was built and have been doing service for twenty-seven years.

BOYS MEET IN PRIZE RING

Two Janesville Lads Catch the Carson City Fever.

Two sixteen-year-old boys fought ten rounds in a North Bluff street barn Saturday afternoon. Thirty young men who had paid five cents each, sat around a ten-foot ring and cheered when their favorite landed a blow. At the end of the tenth round the referee declared it a draw amid much confusion.

BILL NYE ON ROAD MAKING

The Great Humorist Writes Regarding the Nation's Highways.

"Our wagon roads throughout the country," said Bill Nye, in one of his witty writings, "are generally a disgrace to civilization and before we undertake to supply Jaeger underwear and sealisk a covered bibles with flaxie backs to the Africans, it might be well to put a few dollars into the relief of galled and broken down horses that have lost their health on our miserable highways. The county system, as I know it is about as poor and inefficient as it could be. With a road overseer in each road district, whose duty it is to collect so many days' work, or so many dollars from each tax payer in the district, of course, no tax payer would pay a dollar when he can come and make mud pies on the road all day, and visit and gossip with the neighbors and save his dollar, too. With all due respect to the farmer, I will state right here that he does not know how to make roads. An all-wise Providence never intended that he should know. The professional road builders, with the money used by our self-made road architects would, in a few years, make roads in the United States over which two or three times the present sized load could easily be drawn, and the dumb beasts of the republic would rise up and call us blessed for doing it."

FROM PLEASANT PEOPLE.

Some Kind Words That Smooth the Pathway.

In a letter from Mrs. Chas. Knickerbocker of Jackson, Mich., whose connection with the celebrated cook book entitled "Gleanings From Home and Field," is well known, she was kind enough to say by letter to the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., of Battle Creek Mich.: "I have finally found something to take the place of coffee in your 'Postum Cereal Food Coffee.' You have a thing that thousands of people have been needing and wishing for, a drink to take the place of coffee, which to them is poison, though so delicious and so hard to give up. I speak from experience."

Mrs. Glass of Spencer, Iowa, writes: "Our grocer has ordered the Postum Cereal from Des Moines, and we like it well, and many are trying it. "It is meat and drink to our bodies, and satisfaction to our souls and conscience, because we realize it is not only harmless but is nourishing."

Wily grocers sometimes work in cheap imitations of Postum Cereal Food Coffee if the customer will stand it.

THE WATER TO GO HIGHER YET.

John Edwards Predicts That it Will Still Rise.

John Edwards, who has charge of the water power, says Rock river has not yet seen her high mark for this season. He predicts that the river will raise within the next few days another six inches. During the last few days hundreds of tons of earth on the east bank of the river has been washed away by the strong current. This is especially noticeable in the business part of the city, where property owners have attempted to gain land by "filling in" the river.

Some Barker's Corner's News.

Barker's Corners, March 29—Mrs. O. N. Dutton is visiting her father at Fort Atkinson. The ladies Aid so is to meet with Mrs. Wilbur Cross, April 1. At their last meeting, they re-elected their old officers as follows: Mrs. Chas. Shemmaker president, Mrs. William Cox, vice president, Mrs. Gruffy secretary, Mrs. W. H. Taylor, secretary, Mrs. W. H. Taylor treasurer. A. G. Russell, is staying in town doctoring for throat trouble. Julia Dutton is home from Watertown for a weeks vacation. Luellon Spencer was the guest of Lloyd Eagle two days last week. Mrs. W. H. Taylor is on the sick list. Mrs. E. A. Hardy is raising lambs on shares this year as every other one dies.

Seeds For Spring Planting.

We have the agency this year for Landreth & Sons' field, garden and flower seeds; and wish to speak particularly of their excellent qualities. Landreth & Sons are the oldest seed merchants in the country. They furnish the United States government with seeds, and the quality is always kept up. If you will purchase garden or flower seeds this spring we know you will get better satisfaction from Landreth's seeds than by the use of others. We guarantee them to be the best to be obtained. Santorn & Co.

Dress Goods For Everybody.

We have new dress goods at all prices to suit all people. Those who wish the medium priced goods such as 23 cent, 49 cent and 61 cent, can get a selection this spring far better than has ever before been offered. The lady who wishes a higher priced dress we can suit admirably. Our stock is most complete with the newest colors and latest weaves. A point that is always well to be remembered with the ladies is that on every yard of dress goods, on every dry goods item, we save you some money. The mere comparison of prices will show you that what we say is true. Bort, Bailey & Co.

Very Low Rate Excursions to the West and South.

On March 16, April 6 and 20, the Northwestern line will sell Home Seeker's excursion tickets, with favorable time limits to numerous points in the West and South at exceptionally low rates. For tickets and full information apply to agents Chicago & Northwestern Railway.

NAME C. M. WARREN AS THE ALDERMAN

FIFTH WARD REPUBLICAN TICKET NOW COMPLETE.

The Popular Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Engineer Is Placed On the Ticket Today—A. W. Mitchell For Constable—Richard Valentine's Communication.

Fifth ward republicans completed their ticket today, the word committee filing the name of Charles M. Warren for alderman and Alfred W. Mitchell for constable. Mr. Warren is a well known and well liked C. M. & St. P. engineer, while Mr. Mitchell is foreman in the Janesville Woolen Mills.

Mr. Editor:—Did you read the heavy editorial in Sunday morning's Recorder in which the Editor (?) "roasts" Mr. Heddles for the water works controversy? As John Thoroughgood, while mayor, started the whole water row, and the Recorder was "tooth and nail" for it always, it strikes me the Editor (?) has lots of "gall."

Then the Editor (?) says the present democratic ticket is the best ever placed before the people. Didn't John Winans, Dr. J. W. St. John, Dr. O. P. Robinson, Dr. J. B. Whittag, Frank S. Baines and T. T. Croft, head democratic tickets at different times? Pete certainly must have taken a whole bottle of the great nerve tonic, Moxie, just before he wrote his Sunday editorial.

CITY NEWS IN A PARAGRAPH

FLIP-FLOP.

THE Knights of Pythias will meet tonight.

THE Associated Charities met this afternoon.

WHAT else could you expect from the Flip-Flop?

H. D. McKINNEY was up from Chicago for Sunday.

Mrs. J. D. BUCKLEY and daughter spent Sunday in Beloit.

ATTEND the republican caucus in the First ward tonight.

MR. THOROUGHGOOD seems to be in the deadly grip of the Flip-Flop.

ALL republicans should attend the First ward caucus tonight.

TWENTY-FIVE new pieces of dress goods at 71 cents. At Bort, Bailey & Co.

JANESVILLE Lodge No. 55, F. and A. M., meets this evening at Masonic hall.

FIRST ward republicans will hold a caucus to nominate an alderman tonight.

W. J. HEMMING has declined the democratic nomination for school commissioner at large.

AN open meeting will be held at the Union Labor hall tonight, to which the public is invited.

THE Thoughtful circle of the King's Daughters will meet at the Congregational church tonight.

THIS is the regular weekly drill night for the Boys' Brigade and the Christ Church Cadets.

BILLY Link's Vaudeville company open a three nights' engagement at the Myers Grand tonight.

MISS MELISSA CHITTENDER returned from Chicago last evening after attending the Windsor-Carpenter wedding.

DEMOCRATS should read the election law before they force themselves into the republican caucus in the First ward tonight.

THE last flip-flop campaign conducted by the Flip-Flop was a sample of the effectiveness of the flip-flop tactics of the Flip-Flop.

GILBERT EVANSON of 18 Milton avenue, received a telegram Saturday, notifying him of the death of his sister-in-law at West Salem, Wis.

THE Ohio legislature has passed a law prohibiting by fine and imprisonment opticians and jewelers from fitting glasses or using drugs for treating diseased eyes. This is a move in the right direction as a vast amount of injury results from this practice.

FOR sale or exchange. Blickensderfer typewriter in excellent condition. Cost $35. Owner has no further use for it. Will sell or trade for shot gun or something else of equal value. Address "Typewriter" this office, or call.

THE water works suit has been raked up by its former backer, the Flip-Flop—and the work of the men interested—which of course includes Mayor Baines and a dozen other political friends of the Flip-Flop—are now soundly denounced. Mr. Thoroughgood, who signed the affidavit upon which the suit was based, however, is an angel without wings. Great are the contortions of the Flip-Flop.

Solicitor Wanted.

WE KEEP THE QUALITY UP

New Things Have Been::

pouring into the store so fast the past few days that we have scarcely had time to get acquainted with them.

50 Pieces of Wash Goods

came to hand on the 17th instant; they are 31½ inches wide, printed on an extra fine imported cloth by Wm. Simpson, Sons & Co. If we asked you 18 cents for it you would not be surprised. The patterns are very desirable, the colorings excellent. We consider it the best value we have seen. Have put a price on the lot that means quick selling—12½ Cents.

The Wash Goods Family

is a large one, judging from the immense variety at this store. We have a beautiful collection in many weights, and in both dark and light effects. By coming here one has the advantage of having the largest stock in Janesville to select from.

Linen Collars, Linen Cuffs.

There promises to be a larger sale on collars and cuffs this year than for many past. Novelties seem to be the thing this spring, and we show the leading new things. The Tessica, or mortar board, is quite new and a pretty collar on.

The high standing with flaring top is selling well.

The half roll, open front and back, in both flare and lay down we show.

Our several new styles that have gained the approval of critical buyers.

New Ties.....

to go with the new collar. Just received 50 dozen of the latest in Band Bows and Club Ties.

Spring Weights In Jackets

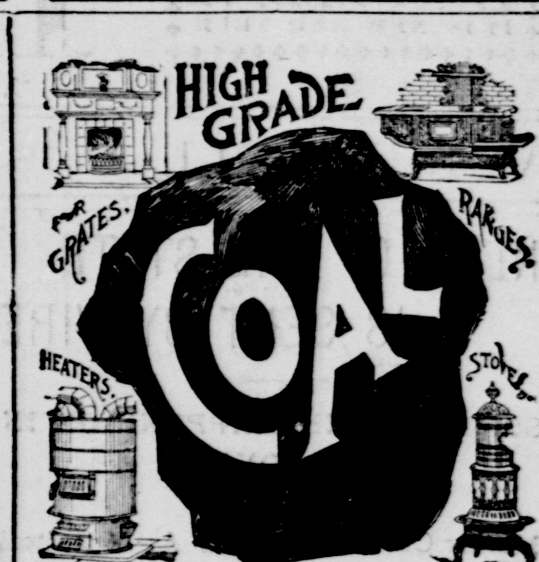

are now in. Prices are not high. We show a liberal assortment of cloth light and dark garments. Capes—many beautiful styles. We can interest you we feel suits

The Biggest Of All

big values. Nothing like them ever known before. Hard to tell how it's done. We have received 100 dozen Pillows, size 18x18, each one covered with China silk and finished with a 3½ inch ruffle. A large variety to select from. Now for the surprise. They are worth easily $1.50, but our price is $1.00.

Mackintoshes

are a necessity. Tuesday a new lot was received. Several were sold a few minutes after being unpacked. You can rely on ours. They are extra values, being made by the Columbia Rubber Co. of Boston, being a guarantee of good quality. All prices. $4.50, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $12.00, &c.

South Dakota in Springtime
Is clothed with verdure green
and spotted with beautiful blue and white prairie flowers tokens of luxuriant soil like that fair country to which Moses led the children of Israel in ancient times.

And like unto that land of plenty,
South Dakota outstrips its sister states
of the east in the products of its soil,
sown, cultivated and harvested in season and with greater ease than in any other portion of the United States.
And so we say unto you that now is the opportunity of a lifetime to "Go west and buy a farm." For descriptive lists and prices, address Geo. H.
Hearford, G. P. A., Chicago, Ill.

MISSIONARY COMING HOME.

Mrs. Lacy Will Return From China This Week.

Mrs. Lacy, a former resident of this city, is expected home this week after having spent a portion of her life among the Chinese where she has been doing missionary work. Her headquarters have been at Foochow, China, where she has labored long and faithfully. The Woman's Missionary Society of the Court Street M. E. church have planned a Thanksgiving to be held at Rev. Dr. Sabin Halsey's residence on April 7, at which Mrs. Lacy will be present.

E. E. Turner, of Compton, Mo., writes us that after suffering from piles for seventeen years, he completely cured them by using three boxes of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures eczema and severe skin diseases. C. D. Stevens.

Relief In Six Hours.

Distressing Kidney and Bladder diseases relieved in six hours by "NEW GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN KIDNEY CURE." This new remedy is a great surprise on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain in the bladder, kidneys, back and every part of the urinary passages in male or female. It relieves retention of water and pain in passing it almost immediately. If you want quick relief and cure this is the remedy. Sold by E. B. Helmsstreet, druggist, Janesville, Wis.

They are so small that the most sensitive persons take them, they are so effective that the most obstinate cases of constipation, headache and torpid liver yield to them. That is why DeWitt's Little Early Risers are known as the famous little pills. C. D. Stevens.

Papa—Well, Johnny, a great many people think there isn't any such thing. —N. Y. Tribune.

Romance of the Future.

"Iphigenia!" exclaimed the infatuated man, with a tremulous voice, "a strange, wonderful feeling comes over me that we have gone through this experience before. Can the doctrine of the transmigration of souls be true? Are we merely reincarnations of beings that have lived ages ago? If not, how is this to be explained? O, Iphigenia, does not this marvelous consciousness impress itself upon you? Do you not remember now in the dim and misty past I told you of my love, even as I am doing now, and you listened favorably to me?"

"Why, surely, Roger," interrupted the lovely Iphigenia. "Have you forgotten that we were married and divorced ten years ago? I was your fourth, you know." —Chicago Tribune.

When He Was Frightened.
"Yes," said the retired army officer, "I can recall two occasions when I was most terribly frightened."

"Oh!" exclaimed the romantic young lady, "do tell me about them. I suppose it happened when you were fighting the Indians."

"No," he replied, "one time was when I was married, and the other time was when we had our baby christened." —Cleveland Leader.

Flannigan Wanted to Know.

Flannigan—I met a man last week, and, badad, I'd have sworn it was yourself.

O'Toole—And wasn't it?
Flannigan—Niver a bit! But he was your very image, barrin' he was a thrifle gray. I suppose, now, ye haven't such a thing as a twin brother a few years older than yourself? —Tit-Bits.

They Can't Do So.

The Chicago girl's worthy of our braves' defense.

From her hat to her shoe she is simply immense. And we're happy to notice the failure, complete, of jokers who've tried to belittle her feet. —L. A. W. Bulletin.

DANGER IN SODA.

Serious Results Sometimes Follow Its Excessive Use.

Common soda is all right in its place and indispensable in the kitchen and for cooking and washing purposes, but it was intended for a medicine, and people who use it as such will some day regret it.

We refer to the common use of soda to relieve heartburn or sour stomach, a habit which thousands of people practice almost daily, and one which is fraught with danger; moreover the soda only gives temporary relief, and the end the stomach trouble gets worse and worse.

The soda acts as a mechanical irritant to the walls of the stomach and bowels and cases are on record where it accumulated in the intestines, causing death by inflammation or peritonitis.

Dr. Harland recommends as the safest and surest cure for sour stomach (acid dyspepsia) an excellent preparation sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These tablets are large 20 grain lozenges, very pleasant to taste and contain the natural acids, pepsines and digestive elements essential to good digestion, and when taken after meals they digest the food perfectly and promptly before it has time to ferment, sour and poison the blood and nervous system.

Dr. Wuerth states that he invariably uses Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach derangements and finds them a certain cure not only for sour stomach, but by promptly digesting the food they create a healthy appetite, increase flesh and strengthen the action of the heart and liver. They are not a cathartic, but intended only for stomach diseases and weakness and will be found reliable in any stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50 cts. per package.

First precinct, Fourth ward, at No. 16 South River street.

Second precinct, Fourth ward, at No. 53 South Academy street.

Fifth ward, building owned by the city on Holmes street, near Center avenue.

By order of the Common Council.

A. E. BADGER,

City Clerk.

Republican Caucus.

A First ward republican caucus for the nomination of a candidate for alderman, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of S. B. Heddles, to be voted for at the next city election, will be held at the west side fire station, in this city, on Monday, March 29, 1897, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. By order

WARD COMMITTEE.

THE WATER WORKS CASE.

Considering that Mr. Thoroughgood was personally responsible for the direction taken by the water works litigation; that on motion of Alderman F. S. Baines he named the first water works committee, and that he made all the preliminary affidavits, it would be wise for his friends to keep the water works case out of the mayoralty campaign. The worst blunders made in the case were made at the very beginning. The appointment of a receiver was short sighted, unwarranted and indefensible. It was made on Mr. Thoroughgood's sworn statement to the court that the water company was insolvent—an assertion that a glance at the list of stockholders should have disproved. It was made without the knowledge of the city attorney, the city's accredited legal authority, and without warrant of the council.

The resort to litigation before any attempt had been made to sift out the facts in the case was at Mayor Thoroughgood's instance and wholly against the advice of Alderman Heddles. Alderman Heddles urged that nothing be done in the courts until there had been a thorough investigation. Had his advice been taken the city would have been saved a heavy bill of court costs and attorney's fees, and would have stood precisely as well as it does today as far as the possession of the figures are concerned.

Mayor Thoroughgood made the water works case his personal concern as long as he remained in office. His successor, Mayor Baines, followed the same course and even neglected to appoint a special water works committee. The special water works committee of which Alderman Heddles was a member was in existence only during the latter part of Mayor Thoroughgood's term, and even then had nothing to do with shaping the course of proceedings. Since Mayor Baines went in office there has been no special committee whatever, the mayor preferring to manage the case himself. This much may be said, however—he has carried it along on the lines laid down by the Recorder in numerous editorials and may very properly feel grieved that his party ought should repudiate its own words and leave him friendless in such an emergency.

Alderman Heddles has nothing to fear from the fullest discussion of the water works matter. He stood throughout for the maintenance of the city's interests; he yielded nothing that the city had a right to claim; but he was too good a business man to favor a lawsuit while other means of settlement remained. His advice, had it been heeded, would have saved the city from mortifying mistakes and heavy expense.

Fifth ward republicans have a right to be proud of their ticket. It was completed today with Charles W. Warren, for alderman; J. W. Hodgdon, for supervisor; J. G. Wray, for school commissioner, and Alfred W. Mitchell, for constable. Mr. Warren and Mr. Mitchell, whose names were added to the ticket this morning, are both well known in the ward. The first is one of the most popular engineers on the O. M. & St. P. road, while Mr. Mitchell is foreman of the Janesville Woolen Mills. Republicans of the Fifth ward will be justified in working eighteen hours a day for the ticket as now made up.

It is a little rough on Dr. J. B. Whiting, John Winans, Dr. J. W. St. John, Dr. O. P. Robinson and the other democrats who have served the city as mayor to be told that John Thoroughgood is the best democrat of them all. The Recorder might have managed its peanut politics without throwing such malicious dabs at the most respected men in the Janesville democracy.

Many republican friends of Mr. Thoroughgood regret to see him head the democratic ticket, but their friendship will not extend far enough to influence their vote.

There have been so many shifts among Janesville democrats of late that it needed only the nomination of a republican for mayor to complete the conclusion.

The legislators intend to leave the press business to the people of the state. The popular verdict on the question may not be so unanimous as some have believed.

The water works case really has nothing to do with the mayoralty campaign and Mr. Thoroughgood would do better to keep it in the background.

Democrats who think mayoralty candidates were to be had without crossing party lines are calling the fine-workers to account.

The wheelmen of the state have been watching the bicycle baggage bill and are not likely to forget the men who killed it.

Country roads will be hub-deep in mud for the next three weeks and every half mile will be an argument for a state road law.

It might be well to have the First ward caucus tonight a republican caucus.

BOUND BY THE TIE OF LOVE.

Windsor-Carpenter.

The wedding of Miss Eliza Louise Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron J. Carpenter, to John Edward Windsor was celebrated in LaGrange, Ill., last Thursday evening. Many Janesville people were interested from the fact that both Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter formerly lived in Janesville and received their education here.

The ceremony took place in the First Congregational church. Both at the church and at the home violets gave the key to the decorations. The presents were very handsome. The bride's new home was a present from her parents, while the dining room was furnished almost entirely by the officials of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois road, of which the bride's father is president. Mr. and Mrs. Windsor left in the private car of President Carpenter for Washington and Old Point Comfort.

Lowry-Lanning.

The many friends of Sherman J. Lowry will be surprised to learn he was married to Miss Frances Getrude Lanning at Prairie du Chemin, March 18, 1897. The bride formerly resided at Boyden, Ia., and is a most estimable young lady and very popular among her friends, while the groom is a rising young business man. The young couple make Hartley, Ia., their home. That Mr. and Mrs. Lowry will live long and prosper is the wish of a host of friends.

St. Joseph Has a Bloody Riot.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 29.—Knives and clubs were used in a race war in the north part of this city Sunday afternoon and several deaths may be the result. Coroner Richmond attempted to hold an inquest on the body of Mrs. James Payne, a negro woman, who died Sunday night under circumstances that are considered suspicious, and the husband of the dead woman and her neighbors resisted. The coroner and constable were driven away by a mob headed by Payne. They returned an hour later, accompanied by nearly a dozen police officers heavily armed, and the trouble was renewed.

Election Notice.

Office of County Clerk, }
March 27, 1897. }

To the Electors of Rock County:

Notice is hereby given that a judicial and municipal election is to be held in the several towns, wards and election precincts in the county of Rock on the sixth day of April 1896, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to this office are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation each in its proper column and the questions submitted to a vote are stated below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters: A voter upon entering the polling place, and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk, which must have endorsed thereon the name or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, voter must retire, alone, to a booth or compartment, and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. The voter must make a cross X after the name of each person for a certain office, whose name is not on the ballot, he must write his name in the blank space under the printed name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all to any one voter. Five minutes time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot, can be taken into the booth and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on outside can be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box and pass out of the voting place. A voter who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his official ballot, can have assistance of one or to election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter. The presiding officer may administer an oath, in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The party designations and candidates for the different offices are as follows:

Official Ballot.

Mark a cross (X) opposite the name of the person you wish to vote for or write his name in the blank space under the name erased.

T. J. ZIEGLER.

E. J. SMITH, Manager.

HE WAS THE FATHER OF THE WATER CASE

JOHN THOROUGHGOOD SIGNED
THE COMPLAINT.

He Also Applied For the Receivership
Alleging That the Corporation Was Insolvent—As Mayor, He Was the Prime Mover in the Action His Organ Denounces.

Now that the "water works" issue has been brought up again, and the men interested in it roundly denounced
by the Recorder, the following questions present themselves:

Who was the "father of the water works suit?"

John Thoroughgood.

Who was mayor when the water
works suit was begun?

John Thoroughgood.

Who swore to the charges made in the complaint upon which the suit was based?

John Thoroughgood.

Who signed the affidavit that the "company was an insolvent corporation?"

John Thoroughgood.

Who asked for a receiver for the water company on the grounds above stated?

John Thoroughgood.

Who refused to listen when City Attorney McElroy urged that the investigation afterwards be made, be made before the suit was begun?

John Thoroughgood.

Who presided at the "citizens' meeting" where the water works suit was backed up?

John Thoroughgood.

Who was more directly responsible for the "water works tom foolery"
than any other one man in the city?

John Thoroughgood.

Thoroughgood the Prime Mover.

The Recorder says the city "had a perfect case," yet the supreme court,
probably in ignorance of the Recorder's belief, decided that the city had no case at all.

The Recorder says that Mr. Heddies is responsible for the suit, when they know that Mayor Thoroughgood started it.

The Recorder knows that the water works committee was appointed by Mayor Thoroughgood, Mayor F. S.
Baines, then an alderman, making the motion, and that John Thoroughgood
was the prime mover in the whole transaction.

The Recorder seeks to shield Mr.
Thoroughgood by attacking Mr. Hed-dies, and abusing The Gazette, but it does not give one single reason why John Thoroughgood, renegade republican, should be more entitled to the vote of the democratic party than is Stuart B. Heddies, out-and-out republican.

The Recorder's plan of campaign is shown by the editorial in the Sunday issue. Where facts cannot be used effectively, abuse and vilification are substituted. Such a campaign cannot but fail, and Mr. Thoroughgood, whose claims are weak at best, is unfortunate in having such backing.

P. L. HINRICHS CALLED AWAY.

Change in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St.
Paul Agency is Under Contemplation.

There was general protest from Janesville patrons of the O. M. & St.
P. road this morning when it was learned that Agent P. L. Hinrichs had been called to Madison to take the agency in that city. The change would be in the nature of a decided promotion with increase of salary,
but Mr. Hinrichs' friends were unanimous in asking him to remain. They urged that he could serve the company best in this city and induced him to stay the matter before the company in that light. It is probable that letters to the same effect will be written by Janesville shippers.

NEW STEAMER ON THE ROCK

Capt. Alex. Buchholz Builds a Boat For Smaller Parties.

A new steamer is to be in service on Rock river this season and on Wednesday afternoon the craft will be launched by Capt. Alex. Buchholz at Crystal Springs park. During the winter months Captain Buchholz and his sons have been at work on the new boat. It is about one-third the size of the Columbia. It will carry twenty-five people and can be taken into shallow water. Steam will be the propelling power and when loaded
the boat will draw but a foot and one-half of water.

MAKE PLANS FOR THE GAME.

Base Ball will be a Prominent Y. M. C. A.
Sport This Summer.

Base ball is to be the leading out of door sport of the Y. M. C. A. this summer. Secretary J. F. Judin says cyclers will have to be satisfied with second place. First and second teams will be formed, beside one in the junior and one in the intermediate departments. Athletic Park will be used this summer as before and it is the intention to arrange several outside games.

the roads are in better condition. A few hogs are now quartered at the local yards, but there are not enough to make a shipment.

MISS WILLS SLEEPS IN REST OF DEATH

INTERMENT WAS MADE AT EMERALD GROVE TODAY.

Remains of the Unfortunate Young Woman Arrived In Janesville This Morning—Clothing Caught Fire
While She Was Cleaning a Pair of Gloves—Was Not Suicide.

Miss Ethel Wills did not commit suicide, but was accidentally burned to death. Her relatives are now satisfied that such was the case.

The remains of the unfortunate young lady arrived in the city this morning from Huron, S. D. The remains were accompanied by her father and mother and by Mr. and Mrs. Pyle at whose home the accident occurred. Relatives and friends met the mourners at the depot this morning and the remains taken to Emerald Grove, where they were interred. Rev.
Mr. Hule of Johnstown, officiated, and the pall bearers were Roy Sanborn, Ellsworth J. Owen, J. Biles, Harry Blay, Clayton Holmes and Edward Kay.

Mrs. Wills and her daughter boarded with Mr. and Mrs. Pyle. On Friday afternoon Miss Wills went into the kitchen for the purpose of cleaning a pair of gloves with gasoline. Just how the accident happened no one knows. Neighbors first discovered smoke issuing from the windows, and on forcing in the door
they found a portion of the house afire,
and the young lady dead on the floor.
The supposition is that the gasoline ignited and set fire to her clothes. The flames she inhaled rendered her unconscious and she met her fate within calling distance of friends. Her arms and legs were terribly burned, although her face and other portions of her body were but little marked.

THE FIRE FILLED HER ROOM.

Mrs. James Brown Made Sick By Inhaling
Smoke.

What came near being a serious fire
took place at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, in the Myers House block. Mrs.
James Brown, who resides on the third floor, over No. 68 East Milwaukee street, threw open the window
and at the top of her voice yelled fire.
Frank J. Malone, who is employed as night waiter in Matt Fardy's restaurant, heard the screams for help, and rushing out into the street he saw smoke pouring from the window.
Malone then rushed upstairs, and forced the door. He found the entire floor and the wood work along the sides of the room ablaze. Two tubs filled with rain water gave Malone the means of quenching the fire. The blaze started from a small oil stove
that was left burning in the room during the night.

Mrs. Brown claims that she never had any trouble with the stove before, although it had been left burning on several previous occasions. The contents of the room were much damaged
by smoke while the floor and wood work were scorched. Mrs. Brown was quite ill as the result of breathing
smoke.

THE WORK IS BEGUN ON THE CAR BARN

STAKES DRIVEN FOR THE BUILDING TODAY.

Power House and Barn Will Be Separate Buildings, and Will Be Finished Within Six Weeks—Transfer of the Lots Made This Morning
—Cost Will Be $3,000.

On the Robert Spicer lots, at the corner of Eastern avenue and the railroad tracks, Contractor James Shearer drove the stakes this morning, for the power house and car barn of the Janesville Street Railway Company.

The deeds to the Spicer lots were signed this morning the lots being traded for the ones donated near the corner of the Beloit road. The power house and car barn will be separate buildings and will cost about $3000.

Plans for the power house call for a substantial frame structure the dimensions being 76x36 feet while the car barn will be 37x91 feet. The Northwestern company will run a spur track to the barns. Work will soon commence to extend the car
track down Eastern avenue
from the Beloit road and with in the next six weeks the power house will be ready to receive the machinery.

UNSPOKEN.

When you owe a fellow money,
It is always kind of funny
How you'd just a little rather that you didn't chance to meet.
Of course you mean to pay it,
And you know he wouldn't say it
If he even got to thinking you a trifle indiscreet.
You know he wouldn't bone you
For the temporary loan you Unthinkingly asserted you would very promptly pay;
But, though cordially you greet him,
It is true you never meet him,
But you wonder if he's thinking of the things
he doesn't say.
Though you grasp his hand with ardor,
Though you grip it hard and harder,
You'll still be sadly conscious of a something in between,
Of a something intervening,
Of the which you guess the meaning,
For you know it's but the spirit of the cash he hasn't seen.

MY LUCKY FIND.

I was almost in despair.
What a lot of trouble I have brought on myself for my good nature! Police investigations and reports, annoyance, chagrin, perhaps, at the outcome. Yes,
it was enough to make a man swear!
And the cause of it all was Baby Mouse, hapless Baby Mouse! But, before you, dear reader, will understand why Baby Mouse should be to blame you will want to know who he is. It's a strange story, and yet sweet and tender withal. And it ends well—that's its best part.
Three months ago I was coming home with the evening shades. It was bitter cold, and I rejoiced in anticipation of my cozy, warm home and the simple,
dainty meal which my old housekeeper,
Johanna, knew how to prepare so well.
I was lost in just such comfortable bachelor reverie, when I descended from the L road to wend my way toward my little Washington Heights home. I walked rapidly and soon reached there.
Opening the iron gate that led into the tiny garden patch in front of the house,
I saw a small package lying on the frozen
snow.
"A present from somebody," I said half aloud, stooped and picked up my find. My hands, a bit numb with cold, despite my fleece lined gloves, had scarcely grasped the bundle when it began to kick and squirm. Nor was that all. It raised such lusty howls that my neighbors' windows flew up, and they stuck out their heads to see what it meant.
It would have done me good to see my face just then in a convenient mirror.
All the nursery tales of cry babies and bewitched castaways came to my mind with a rush. I felt like depositing the lively packet in the place where I had found it, but that would have been cruel.
Aye, it would have been worse than murder to leave such a little mite out in the open with the thermometer at 10 above zero. I had no desire to make the acquaintance of the state attorney.
But, better than all, great pity swelled
my heart for the unfortunate creature whom loveliness had cast away, and as fast as I could run with my burden I ran into the house. Johanna met me in the door.
"See what I have brought you," I said, with a laugh.
The good woman gazed with horror
on the squirming, shaking babe and held out her hands.
"Doctor, what does it mean?" she gasped.
"It means, Johanna, that for the next few days you are going to bathe and feed and fondle this little waif, just as you did me once upon a time."
And then I told her the story of how
I had found Baby Mouse.
In the lamplight I examined the little foundling, and Johanna, too, looked him over with critical eyes. He was a jolly little youngster, 8 months old perhaps, with chubby face, eyes as blue as a summer sky and lips that soon took on cherry hue, as their blue, pinched look died away in the genial warmth of the room and Johanna's embraces that alternated with mine.
Johanna brought out fresh linen, arranged a bed and bathed and washed the foundling. Tucking him comfortably away in an improvised crib, she gave him a bottle filled with milk, and,
when he had appeased his hunger, he fell into a peaceful slumber. I kissed
the baby's brow and said to Johanna:
"I am going to report that case to the police in the morning, and I'll ask them to let me keep the little one until his relations are heard from."
Johanna gave me an amazed look.
"My life is so lonely," I continued,
"he may bring some color into it!" I may have sighed as I walked away.
"You haven't forgotten, doctor," answered the good woman, "no matter how hard you've tried!"
Next day I went to the chief of police. He recorded the case and had no objection to my keeping the baby. This is the way I came into possession of a lovely and beautiful child. Johanna and I decided to call him Robert, but his pet name—Baby Mouse—was older than that, and it clung to him.
And now you know who Mouse is.
Nobody ever came to claim him, and my heart opened to the tender waif as it had never opened before.
Mouse, of course, was treated like a king. Now and then Johanna would say, "You are spoiling the child, doctor!" But she was as weak as I with regard to Mouse.
He grew and prospered like a flower
in the sunshine of our love and was the lustiest youngster on the block.
But there must be rainy days as well.
One day Mouse was taken ill, and before night we knew that he had been attacked with diphtheria. With flaming cheeks and trembling hands he lay in his crib, and I bent over him with breaking heart. Long nights of anxious watching followed. At last care and tender nursing drove death from the door, and the doctor told me that the danger was passed. But another blow

came severe than Mouse's illness.
My old faithful servant had caught the infection and had to take to her bed.
There I was, a helpless man, with an ill woman and a convalescent babe on my hands.
Surely it was a desperate situation.
I engaged a trained nurse to wait on the sick, but I could not expect her to look after me too. The little comforts to which I had been accustomed dropped away one by one.
"If only my wife was here!"
My wife!
Yes, I had been married—in fact, I was still married. And this, too, is a strange story.
My wife was an only child, spoiled
by rich and indulgent parents. When I took her to my modest home, I discovered that she had many little faults—
all women have—and I thought I could wean her away from them. The big faults, of course, I was willing to condone, for they were part of the bargain.
My wife was a bit gay, a bit frivolous,
a bit stubborn and a bit too fond of dress. But I loved her with all my heart, and she loved me. And because I loved her I endeavored to cure her of these little imperfections.
It was a difficult piece of work. Sharp words were spoken on one side, tears shed on the other, and the upshot of the matter was that one day my wife left me and returned to her parents. They wrote me a long letter, expressing regret that my wife could not live with me and advising that we had better separate.
I might have applied for a divorce,
but could not bring myself to do it, and the other side took no steps for a legal separation.
My life became dreary and sad, and I believe I was on the short road to hypo-chondria.
Mouse came just in the nick of time and saved me from that fate. I gave him all my love, and he was all the world to me.
But my present dilemma was due to the coming of the little castaway.
"Mouse, Mouse," I said more than once, "what have you done?"
There were days when I dreaded to go home—two sickbeds, nothing to eat
for myself; forsooth, a cheerless, lonely home.
When I sat down by Johanna's bed,
she tried to console me as best she could,
but her cheerful words fell upon deaf ears.
One evening in March I again wended my way homeward. I thought of Mouse, of Johanna, of the trained nurse,
and was in the worst possible humor.
Opening the door with my latchkey, I hung my overcoat on the rack and made more noise than was necessary in taking off my rubber shoes. I went into the dining room, and—
Had Johanna been prowling about in spite of the doctor's express orders to remain in bed? The tea steamed over the alcohol lamp. There were fresh bread and golden butter, ham, cold roast beef;
the evening papers were nicely stacked
on one side; on the other, my box of cigars, the ash tray and the matches.
Just as Johanna was wont to arrange things in the good old days, before hapless Mouse interfered.
I went into the next room, where Mouse was kept. The lamplight was muffled, but in the semidarkness I recognized the form of the trained nurse
bending over the baby's crib.
"The trained nurse! Was I dreaming? I knew that head, with the daintily molded cheek, the rich blond hair,
gracefully arranged at the back.
I had kissed it many times. A step,
and I was near her. "Anna!" I cried.
"My wife!"
I caught her in my arms. She pressed
her head to my breast and whispered:
"Richard, forgive me!"
It was not a dream. It was sweet reality. Again the lovely woman in my arms whispered:
"Can you forgive me, Richard?"
I can only kiss her again and again
and listen to the story of her coming.
Johanna had written her in what a plight I was. She had told her about the coming of Mouse, the child's illness
and her own, and my helpless condition in the face of all this trouble. And then Johanna had lectured her about the great virtue of forbearance and other wholesome truths with regard to the married life of two people who in reality loved each other.
The old woman's words went straight to Anna's heart. She came, and I held her in my arms and begged her to stay forever.
By this time Mouse had been aroused from his peaceful slumber. When he saw me, he stretched out his little arms,
and I took him and laid him into those
of my wife.
"Will you be a mother to him?" I asked.
"I will love him as you do," answered the sweet woman by my side.
And thus peace has once more come in-
to my house.
And the cause of it all was—Mouse.
Blessed Mouse!—From the German
For St. Louis Republic.

Our Forefathers' Books.

In the course of some remarks at the London dinner to Poynter, the academy's president, Conan Doyle said: "It is difficult now to realize the avidity with which our forefathers fell upon a good, solid book. For them there were no book stalls crammed with cheap literature, no little pirating magazines,
containing the looted spoils of a dozen goodly books. Consequently they had time to absorb a book, so that it became part of their mind and soul. We could not put back the clock and make books rarer. We would not if we could.
But it would not be a bad thing now and again if we went into a retreat for a month or a year and swore off all ephemeral literature and turned back to the classics of our language."

NEW MONTE CRISTO.

ECCENTRIC PRINCE WHO LIVES ON THE ISLAND MAJORCA.

Left Gayety of the Austrian Court—Is an Artist and Author—How He Finds Material for Pen and Pencil—First Visit to Majorca.

BACHELOR prince, a Monte Cristo in wealth, a royal hermit devoted to art and literature, and the most eccentric member of eccentric Austrian royalty, is his imperial highness, Louis Salvador, archduke of Austria, cousin to the present emperor and also cousin to the queen regent of Spain, who has left the gayety of court life and taken up his abode in Majorca, one of the Balearic islands, says the New York Herald. He is a hermit, in having withdrawn from the gay life of the Austrian capital; in dressing plainly, living simply, being much alone and devoting a great part of his time to religious devotion. Yet all luxury is at his command, and he does not hesitate to draw on his storehouse of wealth to gratify every whim and fancy, but these are in direction of art, literature and the study of sociology from original research and observation.

He is as fond of nature as of art and loves to study her ways amid the grand scenery of the islands about him, as well as among the simple folk with whom he comes in contact, and he delights in preserving her works, whether manifested in the landscape or in humanity, by means of a well-directed pen and an artistically guided pencil. These things are with him not only a delight but a passion and for their accomplishment he spares no expense or pains or hard work that often amounts to actual drudgery. He is a veritable working prince, who has left behind all the pomp and display of court and, with means practically unlimited and a retinue at his command, lives among the primitive social surroundings of the most rugged of the Balearic islands. It was in 1867 that the prince, then 25 years old, made his first visit to Majorca. Under the name of Count of Newdorf, and with only two companions, he made the visit, and so impressed was he with the place that he formed the idea of making it his home, which plan he carried out years later. Though he traveled far and wide after that and wrote many books which have made him famous among the literary people of Europe, he never forgot or ceased to talk of Majorca. These travels took him not only through all of Europe and northern Africa, but brought him to the United States, where he made an extended tour, in 1876, the centennial exposition at Philadelphia being the attraction that brought him here. When at last he consummated the desire of years and sailed into the bay of Palma on a beautiful yacht bearing the Austrian flag there was a great commotion among the people, which was intensified when they learned that the archduke of Austria had come to visit them and was to occupy the great palace at Palma, Majorca's capital, which had been undergoing mysterious repairs. The purpose of his visit was first supposed to have something to do with the purchase of the island by Austria, but soon the people rejoiced when they heard their royal visitor had come to stay, to live and spend his millions among them. And he has millions at his command, made up of the income from well-invested securities that have descended to him, the rents of paying real estate in Australia, dividends from profitable breweries in both Austria and Germany and something from his writings. The city of Palma was not the prince's ideal for a home, and he made numerous excursions in search of the place suited to his nature and his purposes. He found it in the old town of Valdemosa, with its beautiful surroundings and ancient architecture. There were the old monastery of La Cartaga and the historical palace of Miramar—just what the prince wanted—and he bought the estate.

Then he began to spend money, and the people rejoiced. The palace was put in perfect repair and beautifully decorated. The monastery had been unoccupied for many years and had fallen to decay, but soon it was restored to more than its former beauty. Rooms that the monks had occupied long ago were completely restored, furnished with beds and cooking utensils, supplied with lamps, oil and provisions, and their doors thrown open for the reception of any travelers who might want to rest for a few days. These travelers have not only been made welcome, but have never been asked to pay anything for their entertainment. Amid the surroundings of beautiful architecture and more beautiful landscape, the prince lives a simple life, devoted to his favorite studies and occupations and to the ritual of the church. He and his suite retire quite early in the night, but never until after public prayers. They are up correspondingly early in the morning and begin the day by attending mass. He has his breakfast shortly after 6 o'clock, and, that eaten, he at once plunges into his work, of which there is ever plenty at hand. He always has a book under way, and sometimes several, which are usually books of travel and history. At noon he has the simplest of light luncheons, and he dines at 6 in the evening.

PROSPECTIVE STYLES.

Lace Striped Lawns and Old Fashioned Barege—An Evening Bodice.

Among the many pretty things offered for spring, or rather summer, wear—for the trade is always necessarily beforehand with the season—are lace striped lawns. There are quantities of lawns, more or less new, embroidered mainly, but embroidery is less of a novelty than these stripes of valenciennes lace apparently woven in with the fabric. The effect is very pretty if one likes lawns and if one can afford to sit still and look pretty in a lawn gown instead of moving around in it. Unfortunately everything with flax for a foundation grows limp and stringy very quickly with use. Therefore lawns are not economical wear. One day's use impairs their freshness, and what is the virtue of a summer frock if it is not fresh? Cotton ducks, cheap as they are, are preferable to linen ones on that account. The cotton ducks may be worn a number of times and yet retain their roundness and crispness, but the linen ducks wilt almost at once.

The old fashioned barege is again to be in vogue. Truly the whirligig of time brings round its revenges and nowhere more surely than in matters of fashion. What is today admired is tomorrow despised and ridiculed, and vice versa. The new or old bareges are very pretty—a sort of idealized chalice—and are not very expensive. Taken all around, the summer styles, judging by the very advanced specimens, are pleasing and of a description calculated to be generally becoming.

Today's illustration shows an evening bodice. The gown to which it belongs is cut in princess form at the back, the skirt forming a pointed corselet in front. The skirt, back and bolero are of broche silk having a pattern in straw and pale blue on a cream ground. The chemise is of straw silk gauze, and the bolero of broche silk is fastened with a butterfly knot at the breast. A large butterfly knot of broche silk forms the sleeve. JUDIC CHOLLET.

DRESSMAKING HINTS.

How to Manage a Bias Edge—Basting a Skirt.

In basting the seams of a skirt or bodice where a bias edge joins a straight one the bias should never be stretched in the least, but should be allowed its full value. Many dressmakers do not believe in binding the seams, as they think it adds to the thickness, preferring to overcast them instead. Very thin taffeta ribbon, however, does not increase the bulk perceptibly and makes the inside of the garment look very much neater.

There are various ways of lining skirts. One way is to baste each breadth of the outside on the corresponding breadth of lining and sew the portions of the skirt together, leaving the seam on the wrong side, the seam then to be pressed open and bound. Another way is to sew the seams of the outside of the skirt and sew all the seams of the lining except the back one, thus having the lining skirt and the outside skirt separate. The seams of both are then pressed open, and the lining skirt is applied, seam by seam, to the inside of the outer skirt, the back breadths of the lining being joined by lapping one over the other and hemming it down.

Although skirts have lost nearly all their rigidity, a narrow band of stiffening is still placed around the foot to hold the skirt free of the ankles in walking. Flexible haircloth of light quality is employed for this purpose, the hair running parallel with the foot of the skirt and the facing being cut to suit the curve of the circumference. Where the haircloth is joined it should be lapped flat and a thin, single strip of satin included in the stitching to keep it from slipping.

In order to insure perfect evenness of the skirt around the foot, it should be mounted on the belt and placed upon a form or upon the person for whom it is intended before the lower edge is finished, as the goods stretch more or less when the skirt is in its natural position. The foot may then be trimmed to the proper length.

An illustration is given of a novel and pretty collar—it hardly deserves to be called a cape—of gray cloth. It is adorned with applications of lace. It is short over the shoulders and has revers and a valois collar, the whole being edged with bands of chinchilla fur. Rosettes of black satin with long ends trim each side of the front. JUDIC CHOLLET.

The Father of the Trolley.

Benson Bidwell, the father of the trolley, is living in obscurity and comparative poverty in Rochester, a little Indiana town, while thousands of fortunes have been piled up from the profits of his invention. He is now bringing suit, however, and hopes in time to recover a portion of the millions which should have been his. Mr. Bidwell invented the trolley system which is in use today and the method of lighting and heating cars by the same current as well. He worked for years in poverty perfecting his idea and lived to see it appropriated by others.

Tossed on the Foaming Billows

You may never have been, but if you cross the Atlantic, no matter how smooth the watery expanse, without sea sickness you are—well, as lucky a voyager, that is all. Old tars who have spent their lives on the ocean waves, who were almost born, so to speak, with their "sea legs on," suffer now and then from sea sickness in very tempestuous weather. Sea sickness, tourists, commercial travelers and yachtsmen say that there is no other safeguard against nausea than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and it has been equally reliable as a preventive by invalids who travel by steamboat and railroad, and who sometimes suffer as much in those conveyances as ocean travelers do in steamships. Biliousness, constipation, sick headache and disorders of the stomach caused by oppressive climatic influence or unwholesome or unaccustomed food or water, always yield to the Bitters speedily. This popular medicine also remedies rheumatism, kidney and nervous disorders, and the infirmities incident to increasing years.
